Ida y Vuelta's presentations come from a long tradition of Mexican folk music called Son Jarocho.

JAIME GARZA

Leona, Requinto & Vocals

The genre is a fusion of African, Spanish and Indigenous music and poetry. Ida y Vuelta's instrumentation is native to the Veracruz region and includes Jaranas (8 string small guitars), requinto (lead 4 string guitar), leona (acoustic bass), zapateado (percussive foot tapping) and they also incorporate the cajón (wood peruvian box) and cajita (small peruvian box) for reinforcements.

LAURA CAMBRON
